Descendants Reception September 14, 2019

As part of Autrey Mill's upcoming Farm Festival, the Johns Creek Historical Society is hosting a special reception for descendants of this area's early farm families in recognition of the important role these families played in this area's rural past. Any with ancestors who lived in this area or who have memories of Johns Creek when it was a farming community, are welcome to attend.

Farm Family Descendants Reception Saturday, September 14th

9:30am-11:30am

Summerour House, Autrey Mill Nature Preserve
9770 Autrey Mill Rd., Johns Creek 30022

Light breakfast provided

Reservations required

Please Note: Parking is limited at Autrey Mill, so we are starting the Descendant Reception ½ hour before the festival begins at 10am. It is strongly suggested that you arrive by 9:30-9:45am to find an on-site parking space.

The reception will be a chance to meet with others with long roots to this area's land and to socialize and reminisce. Descendants of the Rogers, Taylors, Bells, Findleys, Parsons, Medlocks, Summerours, Spruells, and more have been invited. In addition to a light breakfast, the Johns Creek Historical Society will have mini history exhibits displayed highlighting some who lived here in the past and history that happened here.

The Farm Festival continues until 2pm, so after the reception, you are welcome to stay to chat about local history with festival attendees and historical society members or to enjoy other activities of the Farm Festival that are open to the public including music, tours of the farm museum and other historic buildings, and more.

The Descendants Reception is free to descendants and their family, but space is limited. Reservations are required so we can plan food and setup of the Summerour House. Let us know by Monday, September 9th whether you can attend and how many we should expect.
